

Cultural Diversity in Palliative Care: an Indigenous Perspective

Artist: Mick Adams

DATE: Friday 31st October 2014

VENUE: North Street Annex
cnr North & West Streets,
Rockhampton

TIME: 9.00 am to 3.00 pm (approx.)

Clinicians of all health disciplines with a special interest in or who care for Indigenous people receiving palliative and end of life care are invited to register to attend this event.

Learning Objectives:

- Explore some cultural beliefs and values relating to palliative and end of life care of Indigenous people
- Examine aspects of culturally appropriate communication skills relevant to caring for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people with life limiting illness and their family/caregivers
- Identify appropriate resources in the workplace and local community that may assist with providing quality palliative care

Further Information:

- Clinicians who have not attended this workshop previously will be given priority registration.
- As an example of a culturally appropriate communication style, our Indigenous speakers will primarily use yarning rather than electronic presentations.
- Space is limited and registrations are required.
- This is a free event. Morning tea and lunch will be provided.
- Register for this workshop using the "fax back" form attached.

Please be aware that this workshop may contain references to Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander people who have passed away.
