

FPQ Webinar Series 2015

Healthy and safe: Supporting sexual development in early childhood and OSHC

This webinar is designed to assist early childhood and OSHC professionals and services to create a healthy and safe environment in which children learn about their bodies, relationships and being safe.

This webinar will assist you to:

- create a safe and supportive environment to assist children's healthy sexual development
- communicate with parents and carers about sexual development and personal safety
- talk to children about bodies and relationships in a gradual, safe, healthy and positive way

FPQ's webinars enable you to access professional training from your home or office using WebEx Online technology. Sessions are facilitated by an FPQ educator using a combination of streaming audio, videos, pictures, presentations and online collaborations. Participants are encouraged to contribute to the online workshop by joining in chat discussions via text or microphone.
