

Domestic Violence Response Training or DV-alert is Lifeline's accredited training program that enables health, allied health and frontline workers supporting multicultural communities in Australia to confidently:

- RECOGNISE signs of domestic and family violence
- RESPOND with appropriate care
- REFER affected individuals and families to relevant support services

26th and 27th April 2016, 9am-5pm

North Street Annex Training Venue

North & West Streets, Rockhampton

For other workshop schedules, visit dvalert.org.au

We recommend that dvalert.org.au is viewed through Mozilla Firefox or Google Chrome web browser as Internet Explorer may not be compatible

Who is eligible to attend?

All health, allied health and frontline or community frontline workers supporting multicultural communities

What is the cost of the training?

The training fee is waived for health, allied health and community frontline workers.

On top of that, Lifeline will cover reasonable costs of participants requiring travel, accommodation and staff backfill. Visit dvalert.org.au for more information

What are the benefits of the training?

- Statement of Attainment for the unit of competency CHCDFV301A - Recognise and Respond Appropriately to Domestic and Family Violence
- Membership in the DV-alert online community which provides tools and resources on domestic and family violence support and referral
- Points for professional development, specifically for nurses (Continuing Professional Development/CPD hours of the mandatory 20-hour requirement for annual registration; 13 Continuing Nurse Education/CNE hours of the 30-hour professional development annual requirement)
- Opportunity to network with other frontline workers in the community
- Better referral service through increased knowledge of local resources and support